FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY, June 6-6 P. M. The stock market was not active to-day: but it was rather more buoyant than at the close of last week. empared with the sales at the first board on Saturday, New York Central advanced 114 per cent, Eric Railroad 14. Hudson River 1. Reading 14. Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien 14. Michigan Southern 14. Illinois Central 14. Cleveland and Toledo %, Chicago and Rock Island %, Chicago and Northwestern 2%, Pacific Mail 7, Canton Company M. Quicksilver Mining M., and Mariposa 2 Eric preferred and Cumberland Coal sold the same. Harlem declined 1 per cent, Michigan Central 14, and Cleveland and Pittsburg M. The market was without animation for the afternoon and the majority of the railroad shares were a little off. Erie Kaffroad closed at 111%, Hudson River 146%, which was an advance of 3½ per cent since the morning session Reading 188%, Michigan Central 144%, Michigan Southern 94%, Illinois Central 127%, Cleveland and Pittsburg 111%, Chicago and Northwestern 54%, Chicago and Rock Island 111%, Pittsburg and Fort Wayne 115%, Toledo and Wabash 69 %, Pacific Mail 246, an advance of 8 per cent since Saturday; Quicksilver Mining 74%, and Cumberland Coal 82.

Government stocks were less firm, the five-twenty upons closing at 105%, and the one year certificates

The premium on gold advanced again to-day. The opening price was 193%, from which it rose to 194%, or within 5% per cent of the speculators' figure-200. The currency dollar is now only worth 51 1/2 cents.

The money market evinces signs of stringency, caused doubt by the pressing demands of the government, and loans cannot be effected with case under seven pe

The new policy which has just been adopted by Socre tary Chase, of putting the government bonds on the mar-ket, and selling them at the price that capitalists may e upon them, is precisely what we recommended him o many months ago. The question now is he be likely to continue this course, which the only one that can save the coun y from virtual repudiation. The new bonds ill command the attention of men whose as are now lying comparatively idle in fancy stocks, which will be forced on the market for sale, and what ever is realized from them will naturally be invested in the long government bonds, which are considered more safe and far more remunerative in the end than ordinary stock speculations. The plan which Mr. Chase he adopted, even at this late day, will prove of vast benefit to the finances of the country. It will gradually with draw the government paper from circulation, and in the end leave the currency exclusively in the hands of the ational banks and State institutions, and it will tend in a greater degree to reduce the premium on gold, bring down prices of all the necessaries and restore the currency to its normal condition, than anything which has yet seen proposed. The seventy-five millions which are now called for, will probably be expended before the end of the present month, which closes the fiscal year of the government. Mr. Chase will then require another seventy-five or a hundred millions to meet the increasing expenses of the nation, in addition to the amount which will be produced by the ten-forty loan, and if he ues to pursue the same policy it can safely be predicted that the national finances will soon be re-estab-lished upon a secure basis. This movement will, of course, produce a flutter in Wall street, and may bring on a panic. Gold will go down, and a smash in the stock market will not be among the improbabilities; but i such events should occur the country and the people would be benefited thereby, and the path would be made

The average daily expenses of the government, instead of being four millions of dollars, as has been stated, appear, by the official published returns of the publidebt, as they have appeared from time to time-the last two million five hundred thousand. The expenses, of course, are gradually on the increase, owing to the additional number of men who are being called to the field, and the enhanced price of all descriptions of army supplies, and by this time they are no doubt fully up to two and a haif millions daily. The Negro Soldiers in Distress.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HEALD.

One day last week a colored soldier, sick and wounded, was taken to the New England Reflet Association, and his admission urgently solicited. His discharge showed that he had been a private in the First Michigan colored troops. His application to their rooms was refused on the very humans ground that he was not from New Eng-land. He was then taken to the New York State Relief Association, in Haward street, and at once received, and every care, both medical and other, was bestowed upon the unfortunate sudder. He died, however, on Saturday might. IMPORTANT FROM EUROPE.

SRANT'S CAMPAIGN IN ENGLAND—INTENSE EXCITEMENT AS TO THE RESULT—ENAMY PALL IN THE RESEL COTTON LOAN—ALL GRANT'S PLAYS ENGWARD IN ENGEMOND BEFORE HE STARTED—AN ANGLO-ARBEL SKETCH OF HIS INTENDED OFFRATIONS, ETC. The advices from America, brought by the steamship City of washington, of the progress of Loutenant General Grant's movements, have increased the excitement and senantion produced by the first announcement of Union successes received per steamship Europa.

The news is most generally regarded as very disastrous to the robel cause,

The rebel loan has declined in consequence of the Deversible Union sews, and is quoted 5 a 6 per cent lower.

When the China sailed the London France published a course from He correspondent as Richmond, dated April 21, showing that the rebel government had obtained most exact information in regard to the plans of the federal of the pressure compaging. If a 5 despatch wetters a fortnight before General Grant companioned his march.

the operations of his army, since recorded, are delineated with extraordinary precision.

The London Army and Navy Guette reviews the operations of the campaign in Virginia, and says that Grant appears to be in great danger, and that Butler's chances of escape from his position are not appreciable. The repulse of Sigel liberatos Lee's left from sorious meaner. Neither Sherman's occupation of Ressaces nor the advanced position taken by the federais in the face of the enemy compensates for the great peril of their situation. The London These, of the 28th of May, anys:—General Grant is following the military arithmetic of Napoleon, which promised certain results as the product of so many thousand lives; but Napoleon always aimed at a vital point, whereas the Conferates 5-d the Confederate came has no one vital point. The oppiure of Richmond will name bring the North one step nearer the restoration of the Union or the conquest of the South. If General Grant ever marches into Richmond, he may find that Lee has exacted the utmost obtainable price in blood, and will leave the position in his hands with no greater value than that attached to the Wilder, ness after the fighting was over. The advantages of ground, position and intelligence are with the Confederates, and Washington has been nearer captured more than once than Richmond is now. If Lee can make General Grant pay a current rate for every mile of ground, it may be a question whether the resources and endurance of the federais will prove as inexhaustible as the obstinacy of their General.

In the English House of Commons, Mr. Hankey inquired whether there was any foundation for the published correspondence between Earl Russell and Jefferson Davis.

Mr. Layard replied that the correspondence was a hoax, and not a very ingenious one at that.

lished correspondence between Earl Russell and Jefferson Davis.

Mr. Layard replied that the correspondence was a hoax, and not a very ingenious one at that.

The London Hera'd is authorized to state that the alleged correspondence between Lord Lyons and Jefferson Davis, dated the list and 6th of April, published in the American lournals, is a forgery. The correspondence was taken from the American journals and published in the English oness as bona fide.

The London New, in its editorial on the advices recoived by the steamship City of Washington, thinks that the North has at last found a general. It says.—Grant possesses military skill and moral power, which bave hitherto been unknown on the federal side. Even the brilliancy of Loe's achievements does not surpass the masterly skill with which Grant has arranged the combined movement of troops from the frontier of Georgin to the banks of the Potomac. The orushing vigor which has directed his blows in the field and the dozged tonacity which refuses to admit the necessity of retreat or the possibility of disaster, proves him to be of the right stamp. In fact Grant has fixed his teeth in his adversary, and with sleepless tenacity he clings to him nor have all the eff rts of Southern skill and all the desperate courage of Southern chivalry been able to shake off the sturdy Northerner, or even make him relax his hold.

The London Times again dwells on the increasing diffihold.

The London Times again dwells on the increasing difficulties and dangers incurred by Grant the further he advances and Lee falls back on his resources. It adds:

However the war may go in Virginia, it is norfectly clear that the hold of the dedrais is loosening in the Southwest, and that even their great resources are insufficient for the permanent occupation of a territory so vast as that belonging to the confederacy.

The Privalects.

The rebel cruiser Georgia had been announced for sale at Liverpool by private treaty. The crew were paid and the stores sold at auction.

The case of the pirates of the schooner J. L. Gerety was argued in the Court of Queen's Hench, London, on the 24th of May. Counsel for the prisoners moved that they be discharged, on the ground that they had been committed for piracy jure gentum, which is not within the treaty or statute. Lengthy arguments were made in support of this, and in behalf of the American government against it, and they were not concluded when the court rose.

ment against it, and they were not concluded when the court rose.

The Court of Queen's Bench, on the 25th of May, de livered judgment in the case of the pirates of the schooner J. L. Gerety. The Chief Justice was of the opinion that the men ought to be committed for piracy, with a view to being given up to the federal government. The two other Judges were of a contrary opinion. They did not consider that It was a case which came within the act and the treaty, and said that the prisoners were cutitled to a discharge.

The prisoners were consequently liberated.

PURCHASE OF THE PIRATE VESSELS BY THE BRITISH

PURCHASE OF THE PRATE VESSELS BY THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT.

The London Globs announces that the notorious rame built by the Messrs. Laird have been purchased by the British government. No particulars are given, but the Globs congratulates the country upon this extrication from an acknowledged difficulty and the consequences of a possible adverse decision at law.

The purchase money paid by the government for the Laird rams is reported at £235,000.

In the Court of Exchequer, London, the Solicitor General caused the case of the crown against the steam rams at Livernool to be withdrawn, arrangements having been made with the defendants by which it was agreed that a verdict should be taken for the crown. In added that the object of the government was not to punish by fine and penalty, but simply to maiotain neutrality.

added that the object of the government was not to punish by fine and penality, but simply to maiotain neutrality.

The Bano-German War.

The English Ministers explained that Prussia had promised to stop her exactions in Jutland and pay for the contributions levied since the armistice.

It was reported that the British government had consented to a plebiscite in Schleawig-Holsieia, and that arrangements were in progress which preclude a resumption of hostilities.

The King of Prussia, in response to an address for the independence of Schleswig-Holsieia, expressed confidence that the sacrifices of Germany would conduce to the interests of fatherland.

The London Conference was to assemble the day the China left Liverpool.

The London Post says the representatives will an nounce officially the opinions of their governments on the proposed arrangement for the sub-division of Schleswig, the northern portion being amalgamated with Demmark and the southern with Holstein. The Post thinks there are great improbabilities of either Demmark or Germany assenting to the proposition.

Austria and Prussia were said to be in complete accord, and it was asserted in one of their organs that they contemplated offering resolutions for the complete separation of the duchies from Demmark.

Accounts from Jutland recount very arbitrary proceedings by the Prussian since the conclusion of the armistice.

The Berlin Journal denies that any violation of the armistice by the Ailles has taken place.

The Paris papers assert that England, Russia and Sweden intend to propose a stipulation that Kiel shall not become a Federal port for Rendsburg a Federal fortress.

The Paris Paris states that the council of ministers at Copenhagen have resolved not to consent to a division of Schleswig, and have directed the Danish Plenjotentiary, rather than consent to it, to quit the Conference.

The Continental papers assert that the obsists of the arrangement to be adopted consists of a union of Holstein and six southern communes of Schleswig to Germany, a ence, and this is not likely to be accomplished in to day's sitting.

In the House of I ords, on the 26th of May, the conduct of the Germans in their observation of the terms of the armistice was debated and generally denounced.

Earl Russell said that the Danish government had determined to collect the facts and report them to the Conference. In the meantime be recommended a suspension of judgment. He likewise defended the government from the attacks against it for not having backed its moral arguments by physical force in the question of Denmark and Poland. He also asserted that the Queen had aiways cheerfully followed the advice of the Cabinet.

cheerfully followed the advice of the Cabinet.

THE LATEST NEWS.

The Europz, of Frankfort, of the latest date, says:—
Information relative to the Conference, the accuracy of which we can guarantee, announces that the representatives of the Powers have now to choose between a war threatening to overstep the limits of the duchies, and the adoption of a system giving satisfaction to the Panes and Germans alike. The system would be the constitution of Holstein and the German portion of Schleswig in a single State, the people to decide, by universal suffrage, upon the interior covernment they would prefer. The remainder of Schleswig would be united to the Panish monarchy.

The Duchy of Lucenburg was demanding a separation from Denmark equally with Schleswig and Holstein.

Great Britain.

In the House of Commons reference had again been made to the return of the British troops from Canada.

The Marquis of Hartington said that it was intended to withdraw two battalions of guards and a battalion of the military train, principally on account of the heavy cost for the hire of building accommodation for the troops in Canada.

Sir B. Smith isquired whether the communication made by the American Minister to China, to Mr. Seward, on the 20th of June, 1863, respecting the joint policy to be pursued in China by England, Russia, France and America, was in accordance with the despatch addressed to Earl Russell by Sir F. Bruce, and what was the nature of his (Russell's) reply to that despatch.

Mr. Layard said that much misapprehension prevailed on the subject, and he was not exactly aware what despatch was referred to. He offered to produce any extracts from the correspondence on the subject.

Mr. Hennessey attacked the policy of the government on the Polish question. He denounced the tyrannical course of Russia, and moved a resolution declaring "that the British government is no longer bound to acknowledge the dominion of Russia in Polsad."

Lord Paimerston replied, and finally the resolution was withdrawn.
